

Church and March 2009 Community News

STOP PRESS!

The village hall lunches start again this Tuesday the 3rd of March starting at 12.30pm. Do come and join us. All ages welcome!

There will be lunches on the 6 Tuesdays before Easter, a break of one week and then 3 more. The fare will be as usual, a choice of homemade soups, bread, cheese, cake, and tea and coffee. It provides the opportunity to have a leisurely lunch, to meet new people and to see old friends. If you have not been before, why not give us a try?

There is no set charge for the meals but people are asked to give a donation to cover the cost of their lunch. Any profit made will go towards the purchase of a new stove in the village hall kitchen. As the number of people coming to the lunches increases the present stove is a bit inadequate for our needs, so we thought that a new stove would help us and other hall users!

Hope to see you there!

As the Credit Crunch continues the Medical Profession Speaks out on the Government's Financial Package.....

The Allergists voted to scratch it and the Dermatologists advised not to make any rash moves.

The Gastroenterologists had sort of a gut feeling about it but the Neurologists thought the Administration had a lot of nerve, and the Obstetricians felt that they were labouring under a misconception. The Ophthalmologists considered the idea short-sighted, the Pathologists cried out " Over my dead body " while the Paediatricians said " Oh grow up. "

The Psychiatrists thought the whole idea was madness, the Radiologists could see right through it and the Surgeons decided to wash their hands of the whole thing.

The Internists thought that it was a bitter pill to swallow, and the Plastic Surgeons said, " This puts a whole new face on the matter " The Podiatrists thought that it was a step forward but the Urologists felt the total scheme would not hold water.

The Anaesthetists thought the whole idea a gas and the Cardiologists didn't have the heart to say no.

Firstly .... A very big THANK YOU to Rosie Hoyle for all the support and work she has put into the Wrawby Community News for longer than most of us can remember. Rosie has decided to step down from the Editorial Committee now that we have some new members. She first became involved when John Cole was the Editor, then worked with Andrew Whitaker and Richard Rooker before the present Committee was formed in April 2002. We can't believe Rosie will be hanging up her pen completely and we're hoping that as the newly appointed Foundation Governor at Wrawby School she'll be well placed to help us cover school news.....

The new "team" of editors has been discussing how the information in the monthly magazine and on the web site should be coordinated. We are planning to introduce some changes in the near future, including using the Google calendar software to update and maintain the Wrawby diary on the web site. Look out for this new feature in the coming weeks.

We would also like to include more photographs with the articles we publish. This is not always practical in the print magazine but could enhance their presentation on the web site. If you are sending us an article please try and send a photograph where appropriate.

We are going to develop the Gallery feature of the web site to include more pictures of Wrawby. We hope to establish a facility for you to upload digital images direct to the web page soon. In the meantime, if anyone has pictures of Wrawby they'd like uploaded into the Gallery please send them to the following e-mail address: photos@wrawby.org.uk including a declaration that you "own" the picture and are happy for it to be published on the site. (NB You will not be giving up any copyright of the picture by allowing it to be published.)

Parish Council - Annual Parish meeting

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Village Hall on Tuesday 3rd March. This is the meeting at which Wrawby parishioners can question any councillor, as well as the Ward North Lincolnshire Councillors present, on any matter. The Public Meeting starts at 7.30pm in the Village Hall and will be followed by the regular monthly meeting which parishioners can also attend but only to observe the proceedings.

The following items were discussed at the February meeting.

Post Box

The possible installation of a new post box in Wrawby following the closure of the previous one at Central Stores was again mentioned - the Clerk has now heard from Royal Mail to the effect that they cannot justify replacing the box. Royal Mail states that there are already four boxes in Wrawby: Brigg Road, Melton Road, Wold Court and corner of Barton Road and Tunnel Road. These are considered by Royal Mail to be entirely adequate for the village.

Police Report

The police report that January was once again a very quiet month in Wrawby with the only crime recorded being an assault on Melton Road for which an offender is being dealt with. Please remain vigilant and report any suspicions, however small, to the police.

Graham Foster, Clerk to the Council, can be contacted on 651250

Wrawby WI

The next meeting is at 8.00 p.m. on Wednesday 18th March when a representative of Estee Lauder, skin care and perfume products, will give a presentation. Estee Lauder products will be available for purchase. (Cash only, please) More details from Allison on 655049

North Lincolnshire Council is currently in the second stage of consultation on the preparation of the Housing and Employment Land Allocations Development Plan Document. The document sets out potential sites for future housing and employment development as well as potential sites for Gypsy and Traveller accommodation. The proposals include amendments to the Plan for Wrawby. You can see the proposals and make comments via the website at:

The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour until all of it was leavened' (Mtt 13.33)

Just as yeast, when mixed with the other necessary ingredients required to make dough, results in fresh, tasty bread when it's baked, we are necessary to change the world. God calls each one of us to make a difference to the world in which we live.

Many things in the world are spoilt by humanities failings and mistakes, and the world is not how God intended it to be. Many of us have areas of concern that we are passionate about, and put a lot of our time and effort into changing. Issues such as abortion, the events in Gaza, homelessness in our own country. Some people buy Fairtrade products and seek to put an end to poverty and establish justice. Some are concerned with peace, others with racial equality. Animal rights, protecting the environment and saving endangered species are close to the hearts of some. I'm sure there are other issues I've not thought of here, which people find speak to their hearts, and stir their emotions, leading them to take action in some way – large or small.

As the Church journeys through the penitential season of Lent, Christians are called to say sorry to God for the ways we mar His image in us, and the ways we fail to love God with our whole beings, failing to love our neighbours as we ourselves would hope to be loved. We attempt to turn away from the bad habits we have formed in our lives, and try to become better people, more like the people God wants us to be. And one of the ways we express our attitude of repentance is by giving up something that we like very much, chocolate, meat, alcohol and so on.

Perhaps this year, rather than giving up something, you might consider taking on something. Think about what current events matter to you, it may be something on the list above, or you may have other things that concern you. Then think of some way you might be able to contribute to the work of that group during Lent. It may be an organisation with a local link, which you could offer to do voluntary work for. Or perhaps you might contribute to their work financially, by saving a small sum of money each day and donating it at Easter. But the most important way we can help is by prayer. Hold that charity, or need, or situation in prayer each day, and ask God to help alleviate the suffering of the world.

If each person who reads this article feels challenged to take on a new task during Lent, for just six short weeks, then perhaps we will be like the yeast which, when mixed in with flour, will cause changes and renewal in our world. Each little action is a contribution to the coming of God's kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven. By our response to God's call in our lives, we can change the world.

With my prayers and best wishes,

Fr. Owain
